CUSTOM DOORS

We build quality into our doors every step of the way. All material is hand-selected for color and characteristics.

Stiles have engineered cores to virtually prevent warpage. The skins on the cores are 3/16" thick - far beefier than any veneer.

Exterior door panels are triple-layered for maximum insulating value. All exterior doors are assembled with Type 3 waterproof adhesives.

PREMADE DOOR SUPPLIERS

We have numerous door lines at our disposal and are happy to compare suppliers for you to find you the best price and lead time for your project.

Our complete door shop will prehang your door to your specifications and offer help in selecting everything from hinge type and color, to wood species for your jambs. Our craftsmen are skilled in building complete entry door systems with sidelights and transoms.

ENTRY DOOR SELECTOR

Here's some help to get started with choosing an entry door.

First, decide on the type of style that fits your home. Is it more rustic, contemporary, or traditional, for example. The following pages will help break down the options for each style, providing recommendations for wood types and profiles.

Have a style in mind that you don't see in here? No problem, we can work with you to create a custom door drawing that reflects your vision.
